Faith Today gets the word out

What is Faith Today?

Faith Today is where many of Canada's four million evangelical Christians go for conversation and journalism about the issues of the day.

Our respected communications channels:

- print magazine (since 1983)
- podcasts
- websites
- social media
- newsletters, and
- video content

All channels reach from Anglicans and Baptists to Pentecostals and Salvationists, and also include dozens of groups in between.

Faith Today is published by The Evangelical Fellowship of Canada (a registered charity) and member of the World Evangelical Alliance.
